

Invitation

I CONFESS: I cannot guarantee that an online discussion forum devoted to volunteers and volunteering will succeed.

What I can guarantee, however, is that it will fail—yes, WILL FAIL—if people like you don't visit and participate.

That's because, if you are looking at this invitation, you are probably one of the people whose support would be needed to make the forum catch on.

Why participate in VolunteerTalk.org? Here are three reasons:

1. To get answers to questions you might have relating in some way to volunteering.
2. To share your knowledge, receiving satisfaction from knowing that others will benefit.
3. To contribute to the cause of volunteerism, by helping to grow the community.

Read more about the forum idea in the March 2015 Hot Topic at Energize, Inc. (www.energizeinc.com/hot-topics/2015/march) and please visit the new forum in beta version at www.VolunteerTalk.org.
